

Michael Gomes

Michael Gomes is regarded as one of today's most respected writers on esoteric movements and is well known to readers of occult and esoteric literature. Since 1995, he has been the director of the Emily Sellon Memorial Library in New York City. In 2025, Gomes received the Theosophical Society's prestigious T. Subba Row Medal in recognition of his contribution to theosophical literature, spanning four decades. He has also been invited to deliver the Theosophical Society of England's Blavatsky Lecture three times, an honor shared with only two other individuals. Michael Gomes has been a member of the Theosophical Society since 1968.
